(4) It takes about 50 minutes to Shin-Osaka station. There are many platforms at Shin-Osaka, you have to go to the form (usually 20,21,22) which the Shin-Kansen to Aioi or Himeji leaves. The Shin-Osaka station is very confusing. The best way to find the platform is to ask to the station staff who can speak even poor English. Show your ticket, they will take you to the departure platform. Most difficult part of trip from KIX to SPring-8 is changing trains from Haruka to Shin-Kansen at the Shin-Osaka station.

(5) There are three types for Shin-Kansen, Nozomi, Hikari and Kodama. Since not all trains stop at Aioi station, the choice of the Shin-Kansen is very important (all Kodama trains and some Hikari stop at Aioi). It takes 60-70 minutes from Shin-Osaka to Aioi. If you take Nozomi or non- stopped Hikari, please get off at Himeji Station and change to Kodama or some Hikari stop at Aioi.
